LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. J. C. Ramage of Saluda was among the visitors in Edgefield Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rubenstein came up from Augusta and spent Sunday in Edgefield.

Miss Annie Wilson spent the weekend in Greenwood visiting her uncle, Col. F. N. K. Bailey.

Mr. John W. Holland of Chappell, is here visiting in the home of his uncle, Mr. W. T. Kinnaird.

Mrs. Hal Beman of Augusta spent several days in Edgefield with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Key.

Rev. P. P. Blalock will preach in the Presbyterian church at Trenton, Sunday morning at eleven o'clock.

Mr. Orlando Sheppard and Mr. S. B. Nicholson are in Charleston attending the Masonic Grand Lodge.

Mr. P. W. Gibson of Anderson spent several days last week in Edgefield as the guest of Mr. George F. Mims.

A meeting of the Civic League will be held in the rooms of the Library Thursday afternoon at four o'clock.

Mr. W. K. Charles, a prominent young attorney of the McCormick bar, spent Friday in Edgefield on business.

Misses Anna Mae Scurry, Maybel Reel and Thelma Jackson came home from their studies in Columbia to spend the week-end.

The Odd Fellows will hold a meeting Monday night, February 28, and all members are urged to be present. Refreshments will be served.

Do not fail to hear the Metropolitan Glee Club in the Opera House Monday night. It will be the best entertainment of the kind ever given in Edgefield. A miscellaneous program will be given.

The grand and petit juries are published in this issue. The spring term of the Court of General Sessions will convene the 7th of March, the first Monday, with Hon. F. B. Gary of Abbeville as presiding judge.

Miss Sarah Lyon and Misses Tot and Eugenia Brunson came home from Winthrop Saturday to spend several days. The college gave some of the girls a short holiday, including February 22nd, the anniversary of George Washington's birth.

Mrs. Lillie Garrett and her niece, Miss Smith, of Athens, Ga., were guests of Mrs. C. H. Key Friday. Mrs. Garrett will be pleasantly remembered by her Edgefield friends as Miss Lillie Cheatham, the youngest daughter of Col. and Mrs. O. F. Cheatham.

Miss Sophie Mims and Miss Sadie Mims spent Saturday night and Sunday at Trenton as guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Day, Jr. Sunday afternoon, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Day, they went to Augusta to attend the sacred concert in the Modjeska theatre which has recently installed a $10,000 pipe organ.

Were it possible to buy at the prevailing prices the goods and the chattels that are being sold almost every day on the public square under mortgage foreclosure and sell them for what they are actually worth, one could easily make a small fortune. The buying would be easy, if one had the ready cash, but the selling is another matter. It's a great pity however, that property has to be thus sacrificed.

Sold at Public Outcry.

Monday morning the goods and chattels on the public square belonging to the town were sold at public outcry. The steel tower and tank were bought by Mr. G. W. Wise of Trenton for $61, the well shelter was sold to Mr. J. D. Holstein for $5 and the faithful pump was knocked down to Mr. Tillman Bussey for $2. The bricks and iron fence are said to be the property of the members of the U. D. C. Everything belonging to the town, except the time-honored well, was sold, and probably it would have changed ownership had the town been able to make delivery to the purchaser. The old well has served its day and generation well but is no longer needed.

Bargain Sale Will Continue.

In spite of the muddy roads and unfavorable weather the opening days of the sale, Mr. Rubenstein has had a large crowd at his store daily since the sale began. He announces this week that on account of the unfavorable weather, keeping a number of his country patrons from attending this feast of bargains, he will continue the price reduction sale until the 10th of March. The ready cash will make large purchases at Mr. Rubenstein's store.

Mr. Dozier Lynch at Home.

Mr. D. A. Lynch arrived from Fort Stanton, New Mexico, yesterday morning to spend some time here with his mother, Mrs. Kate Lynch. He was accompanied by his brother, Mr. W. E. Lynch, who went to Fort Stanton about ten days ago. The trip to Edgefield from the far-off southwest is a long and tiresome one. They left Fort Stanton Friday and reached Edgefield Tuesday, being en route four days and nights. Mr. Lynch always receives an affectionate welcome from his friends when he comes back home for a visit.

Solicitor Callison Here.

Pursuant to his announcement last week, Solicitor T. C. Callison came up from Lexington and spent Saturday in Edgefield conferring with magistrates and others concerning the business that is to be disposed of during the March term of court. Mr. Callison is keeping faith with the people. He stated in the campaign last summer that if elected he would visit each county seat prior to the convening of court in order to facilitate the operations of the court, thereby effecting a saving to the taxpayers. Mr. Callison is making good.

Man Held For Investigation.

Tuesday afternoon Sheriff Swearingen arrested a man who appeared to be a "tramp" near the home of Mr. J. R. Cantelou. Traveling as he was, without any definite object or purpose, aroused suspicion and he was placed in jail to await developments. He evidently hails from Pennsylvania but refused to give the name of his kith and kin upon the ground that he did not care to disturb his people. No charge has been preferred against the man but he was simply held as a suspicious character. In these days of so much devilry of every sort it is well to make every possible investigation as a precautionary measure.

Mr. Reese Held Up and Robbed.

Last night about eight o'clock while Mr. J. W. Reese, Sr., was coming from Johnston, in his buggy, he was held up and robbed while letting his horse stop for water at the branch this side of the Holland place. There were two men. One held the bridle of the horse while the other, who was armed with a shot gun, ordered him to give up his money. Mr. Reese had been out collecting fees for hunting licenses issued by game warden and had about $100 on his person, which was taken over by the highwaymen. When Mr. Reese came in town and related what had happened several persons went to the scene of the robbery in the hope of finding a clue but nothing except the tracks and an empty pocket-book were there to tell the tale. Nothing up to this time has been found that points to the guilty parties.

The Quality Shop.

A new business makes its bow to the people of Edgefield this week. The Quality Shop has opened for business in the Turner Annex to the rear of The Corner Store. The owners and managers are Misses Kate Samuel and Ruth Lyon. They recently went to market and purchased an entirely new spring stock of millinery and ladies' ready-to-wear goods and are now open for business. Both of these ladies have had considerable experience in these lines, which will enable them to suit the tastes of the Edgefield ladies. Their new stock is being enlarged by shipments by almost every express and they will keep everything up to the minute in style. The Quality Shop is being conducted strictly on a cash basis, which will enable the managers to buy cheaper and sell cheaper than if conducted on a credit basis. In their advertisement this week Misses Samuel and Lyon invite the ladies to call and inspect their new spring stock.

Small Fertilizer Movement.

Just what the reduction will be in the use of commercial fertilizers will be this year is a matter of conjecture, but it is certain that there will be a tremendous falling off in the purchasing of fertilizers by Edgefield farmers. Capt. L. Y. Moore says the receipts thus far at Edgefield are less than five per cent of what they were this time last season. In December alone in 1919 Capt. Moore says he hauled 166 cars of fertilizers into Edgefield and that up to this time this season only about 14 cars have been delivered here, or rather put in the Edgefield warehouses. This is due to two causes: the high price of fertilizers and the greatly curtailed purchasing power of farmers. Scores and hundreds who used fertilizers liberally last year will probably not be able to purchase a sack for the crop of 1921, and those who can buy are loath to place their orders at the present high prices. The fact is, people can not afford to pay the prevailing prices with the outlook for the price next fall so gloomy and uncertain. Then, too, it will be folly to fertilize cotton with high priced fertilizers for the boll weevil to get fifty per cent of it or more.

A Lovely Party at Trenton.

The Kill Kare Klub which is striving to build a public library started the year by giving a party at the home of the president, Miss Sabe Miller, on Wednesday evening, February 16. Each member of the club invited a young man as her guest.

As the members of the party entered they were ushered into the parlors under a bower of hearts. The parlors were decorated in red and white japonicas, calla lillies and hearts.

When all the guests had assembled, cards of Cupids and hearts were drawn for partners and then a salad course was served.

The tables for cards were numbered with large red hearts bearing the white number in the center. On each table was a heart shaped basket of mints and the call bell at head table was decorated with hearts.

After a spirited game of cards for about two hours charlotte russe with cherries and fruit cake was served. After refreshments had been served Mr. John Mathis of Augusta rendered several beautiful selections on the violin accompanied by Miss Gatlin at the piano.

As each guest departed a red or a white japonica was drawn. When "goodnights" were being said the young men gave fifteen "rah rahs" for the Kill Kare Klub.

Dr. Lee Has Resigned.

At a conference of the members of the Baptist church Sunday morning held immediately after the morning service, Dr. R. G. Lee presented his resignation as pastor of the church to take effect the first Sunday in April, his last sermon being preached on that day. Dr. Lee stated that after prayerful consideration he has decided that it is his duty to accept the call to Chester. It is not only a larger field but it is probable that the Furman Fitting School will be established there, which will give an added opportunity for increased usefulness. The entire congregation was deeply moved by the resignation of Dr. Lee, as it is generally conceded that the church has never had a pastor who was more generally or more genuinely beloved. Dr. Lee requested in his resignation that he be permitted to have a part in the selection of his successor, this request being made not in the spirit of dictation as to who should follow him, but because of his abiding love for the people and interest in the welfare of the church. Dr. Lee's resignation was reluctantly accepted, and a committee consisting of Dr. Lee, Mr. O. Sheppard, Mr. B. B. Jones, Mr. D. B. Hollingsworth, Mr. W. A. Strom was appointed to suggest a suitable person to succeed Dr. Lee as pastor. It is the desire of the church to secure a pastor as soon as possible, so the work can be taken up and carried forward without a break or interruption.

Big Cut-Price Sale Continues

On account of the bad roads a considerable number of our friends have been unable to come to Edgefield and have written us to extend the time of our big cut-price sale, which was announced to close Saturday. So we have decided to continue the sale until March 10th at the same prices.

We are also receiving spring goods daily and are including them in the cut prices.

Rubenstein's

Rev. J. Q. Adams.

Ridgeway, Feb. 21.—Ridgeway was saddened yesterday morning to learn that the Rev. J. Q. Adams, D. D., had passed away at 3 o'clock from an attack of angina pectoris of which he had been a patient sufferer for some time.

Due to failing health Dr. Adams had retired from active service in the ministry of the Baptist church and for several years had lived most of the time at the home of his son, R. W. Adams, in Ridgeway, where, by his strong personality and Christian fortitude had made friends of all who came in contact with him.

The Rev. Joseph Quincy Adams was born in Edgefield county, August 7, 1855, the son of Richard Wright Adams, one of the most influential citizens of that section of the state. After the ordinary country school training such as the times afforded, Mr. Adams left for Greenville, where he was graduated in 1876. Later he was graduated from the Southern Baptist Theological seminary in Louisville, Ky., and immediately entered upon the active Baptist ministry at Ebenezer. He served successively at Ebenezer, Rock Hill, Asheville, Wadesboro, Reidville and Forest City, the four latter charges in North Carolina, and at the South Main church, Greenwood; Harmony and Providence church, Gaffney.

During the latter years of his ministry new houses of worship were erected under his direction at Charlotte, Forest City, Greenwood, Harmony and Reidville. Dr. Adams was in the ministry for more than 40 years. He was twice married, his first wife being Miss Mamie B. Davis of Greenville, who died in 1899 leaving three sons, Dr. J. Q. Adams, Jr., of Ithaca, N. Y., professor of English at Cornell university, Winston D. Adams of Charlotte, secretary and treasurer of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association, and Richard W. Adams, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Ridgeway. The second marriage was to Miss Leslie Pleasants of Asheville, who with two sons, Leslie P. Adams and Lawrence P. Adams, survives.

The funeral will take place at Wadesboro, N. C., Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the services being in charge of the Rev. Livingston Johnson, D. D., of Raleigh, N. C., a lifelong friend. Dr. Adams was well known throughout South Carolina and numbered his friends by the score in every section of the state.

Dr. Adams was greatly beloved in his home county of Edgefield. For many years he would return each spring or summer and visit his relatives in Edgefield and the scenes of his childhood and youth. He had visited during the past fall his cousin, Mrs. Susan Daniel in Saluda, and had hoped to return again and see all of his relatives, but this reunion must now take place in the Eternal City where he has gone and awaits them. Dr. Adams was an uncle of Dr. Manly Timmons, but they were nearly the same age and most devoted from their childhood. Perhaps he will feel the bereavement along with Mrs. Daniel and Mrs. Bettie Allen of Saluda more than any others, though there are many others who deplore his going.

Hold your head up. Don't be a grouch, but smile. Things are not what they seem.

Notice of Final Settlement and Discharge.

Notice is hereby given that on the 29th day of March, A. D., 1921, at 10 o'clock a. m., I will make a final accounting and settlement on the estate of the late Mrs. Amina F. Ouzts, deceased and at the same time will apply to the Judge of Probate for Edgefield county, South Carolina, for a final discharge as Executor of said estate.

All persons having claims against said estate will present the same to the undersigned on or before said date or be barred, and all persons indebted to said estate will make payment to me.

A. G. OUZTS.
